Complete the client risk-profile process before emphasizing an investment scenario. Scenarios remain unranked educational illustrations until a representative records a risk-profile classification. Arithmetic completion alone does not make the evaluation client-ready.

Important safeguards

- Educational Illustration
- Non-guaranteed
- This is not a recommendation.
- Any discussion involving specific investment products or securities must be handled by an appropriately registered representative.

REPLACEMENT SAFEGUARDS

- Do not cancel or surrender the existing policy before new coverage is approved, issued, accepted, paid, and confirmed in force.
- The proposed term coverage may be declined, rated, delayed, or modified through underwriting.
- Replacement forms and procedures may be required.
- Existing surrender charges, loans, tax consequences, riders, guarantees, contestability periods, and other policy differences must be reviewed.
- Term insurance does not build cash value and expires after the selected term.
- Investment values fluctuate and may lose value.
- Investment returns are not guaranteed.

EDUCATIONAL DISCLAIMERS

- Planning illustration for representative discussion only. Not a client recommendation.
- Atlas informs. Representatives recommend. Clients decide.
- Investment projections are hypothetical and non-guaranteed.
- Specific mutual-fund symbols are not recommended in this evaluation.
- Official product eligibility, premiums, replacement requirements, and investment suitability must be verified outside any preliminary estimate.
- These projections are hypothetical and educational. They are not guaranteed or expected returns and must not be presented as such.
- Atlas does not instruct cancellation or surrender of existing coverage. Replacement decisions remain with the licensed representative and client under applicable rules.
